

On Riemann problem for 2×2 nonhomogeneous hyperbolic systems

FRANCESCO OLIVIERI - University of Messina

A Riemann-like problem for a 2×2 nonhomogeneous first order hyperbolic system is considered. The analysis is performed by introducing an invertible point transformation (suggested by the invariance with respect to a Lie group of point symmetries) that maps the source system in homogeneous form and studying the corresponding initial value problem.