Home Institution (TG2) Belong to Target group-3

If you feel that you belong to a vulnerable group (i.e. refugee, displaced population, disabled foreign students, economically disadvantaged groups and indigenous populations etc) then you may additionally belong to Target Group 3 (TG3)

Do you belong to Target Group 3 (TG3)? YES

If you selected YES in the previous field, please explain your situation below

TG3 Information:

I belong to Lower Dir district of Pakistan. Last year in our area a military operation has been started against the insurgents. Due to this operation thousands of people migrated to other areas of Pakistan. We also left our village and went to Peshawar which is another city of Pakistan. We lived with our relatives there but with great difficulties. We faced many hardships and the education of all our family members including me disturbed very much. The government gives us the status of IDPs (Internally displaced Persons).

Due to this operation against the insurgents many schools and hospitals destroyed. The infrastructure also effected heavily. Still there are patrolling of army in the area and life is not normal. There is also fear of attacks from the insurgents and sometimes they target schools and army vans. Now we are back in our area but the situation is not satisfactory up till now.

Due to these circumstances if you give the Erasmus scholarship it will be good for me and for my brothers and sisters as well, so that I will guide them well in the future.

the relevant professors at the host universities. It is important for them to have a clear idea about what you plan to do at the host university.

Motivation letter for first choice host university:

The university of Padua is a prominent university in Europe. It is among the earliest universities of the world and the second oldest in Italy. As of 2003 the university had approximately 65,000 students and in 2009, was nominated as "best university" among Italian institutions of higher education with more than 40,000 students. It is also a research university. The university also offers courses in informatics and computer sciences and I intend to do research in these fields so this university is a best choice for me.

Motivation for second choice host university:

University of Twente is a university located in Enschede, Netherlands. It offers research and degree programmes in the social and behavioural sciences and in technology. The University of Twente is an entrepreneurial research university with special focus on technological developments in the knowledge society. The university needs to be responsive to the requirements of the knowledge society and also has a special responsibility to develop and implement a broad knowledge potential in science and technology. It provides many facilities to students. As I have applied in informatics and this university has well equipped Labs. There are mostly doctors so they will provide guidance during my whole masters program.
